

A Small Fire

5B Henry Sing

Last week, there was a small fire in my school canteen. When the fire started, I was having lunch in the canteen with my friends.

The fire was caused by a cook. He forgot to turn off the stove. Then the fire started in the kitchen and a lot of smoke came out from the kitchen. We were scared to see that. Other students in the canteen were scared too. Many students screamed!

The people in the kitchen all went out. They all got hurt. Someone got his hand burnt while someone got his hair burnt. The students left the canteen quickly, but my friends Mary and Chris fell down on the floor. Their legs were hurt so they went out of the canteen with difficulty. Many teachers and students also got hurt. My English teacher's hand was injured and a janitor's leg was bleeding.

Ten minutes later, the firemen arrived and they spent only eight minutes to put out the fire. People who got hurt were sent to the hospital. There were sixteen people hurt in the accident. I was very scared in this accident because it was terrible and it happened in a sudden. I hope it will not happen again.

Food For Thought : Did the teachers do anything to help the students? Did you learn anything from this accident?
